SUMMER VISITS 2008

Wollaton Hall

A guided tour of Wollaton Hall has been arranged for the afternoon of Thursday 12 June, which will include a visit to the Prospect Room, at the very top of the hall, which affords remarkable views of the park and the city. The room has only recently been made accessible for public visits and the tour offers a good chance to see this spectacular and, until recently, little known feature of the hall. The tour will also go behind the scenes and into parts of the building to which the public has only limited access.

While the tour is the only organised part of the visit, members may wish to spend a little extra time in the park, either before or after the tour, visiting the Industrial Museum and inspecting the newly refurbished Camellia House, one of the oldest cast-iron and glass buildings in existence. They might also wish to join a forty-five minute tour to see the Hall's kitchen and the Admiral's Bath - this tour leaves the Hall reception at 2.30 and costs £2.50 or £2.00 for concessions (payable at reception).

Date : Thursday 12 June 2008 at 3.20pm Cost : £2.50 Concessions £2.00
Meet : Wollaton Hall main door
